

Does your heart beat for the start-up life, incredible products and retail of tomorrow?
Are you powered by curiosity and enjoy working in a motivated team? Then become part of the Everbrent family!

We develop and distribute our products throughout Europe under 5 different brands. The product range includes sporting goods, modern living appliances, pet supplies as well as baby and children accessories. We are the creators behind Southeast Asia's largest e-commerce platform Lazada (part of Alibaba), Rocket Internet in Indonesia and have been business consultants at the Boston Consulting Group. Now, we are growing to be one of the most distinguished e-commerce companies in Germany.

Intern Category Management / Buying (m / f)

operating from our HQ in downtown Cologne

Your role

- Identify niches in European e-commerce markets
- Analyse customer requirements and help develop new products
- Provide support in the international supplier search, negotiations and prospective relationships
- Visit international fairs and producers worldwide

Who you are

- You are enrolled in a bachelor or master degree program. The field of study is not crucial – you will receive training on the job!
- You embody a sense of self-responsibility, reliability and high-quality standards for your own work
- You are actively seeking tasks that stimulate your interests and challenge your evolving skillset
- You show a good level of proficiency in handling MS Office (especially Excel)
- You have at least 10 weeks free in your schedule

What you can expect

- We give you plenty of room for decision-making and personal responsibility in an international work environment
- We encourage „hands-on tasks“ - no corporate policy, no hierarchical structures
- We are not all work and no fun: various team events and activities await!
- We offer first-hand experience in working with a start-up

Is this the next step for you? Send us your application including your CV and availability!
